Pants for Rosh Hashana

Dani and Natan got pants for Rosh Hashana. Before Rosh Hashana they had a game of tag in the park. Dani tore his pants. Ima had to get more pants for Dani at the store.

Ima is at the store.

"Can I help?" said the salesman. "Can I get pants for Dani here? Not short pants.

Can I get them fast? It'll take time to prepare chicken and potatoes and to core apples to bake. There are so many more chores to do before Rosh Hashana!"

"Yes, here are pants that are not short. The pants are OK for Dani," said the salesman.

"The pants cost (עולים) 50 shekels."

"Here is the money. That's not a lot of money for pants for Rosh Hashana.

Children's pants can't be torn for Rosh Hashana," Ima said.

"Don't forget to tell Dani, 'shana tova' from the man at the pants store," he said.

"Before I forget, shana tova from the family," Ima said.

"Thanks. Here is some candy for the children for Rosh Hashana," said the man.
